CHAPTER 6
CONCLUSION

The objective of this project is making automatically feeding time. With this system, can make the using of time and energy more efficient. The controlling can be doing from everywhere provided that there is internet. Data from distance sensor can be saving periodically in broker during the fixed period.

The project can be developed by adding the feed expenditure data. So, this project will be more efficient.