

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1. Conclusion

Most of the slang words are used in a limited speech community. This limited means a limit in some aspects, but not too specific. Slang words are widely used in some aspects such as Internet forum. The usage of slang words in Indo Dunia internet forum is very common, therefore, the members of Indo Dunia internet forums should know what kinds of slang words which are used and how they are formed.

From Indo Dunia Internet Forum, the writer founds 47 kinds of slang words which are used by the members of Indo Dunia Internet forums. From the Semantics point of view, there are 40 slang words from 47 slang words (85.1%) which have denotation and connotation meanings and the rest are 7 slang words from 47 slang words (14.9%) which have only denotation meanings. From the morphology point of view, there are 29 slang words which are formed through Multiple process (61.7%) and most of them are combination of Acronyms + Borrowing process, then followed by 8 slang words which are formed through Acronyms process (17.02%), 5 slang words which are formed through Coinage (10.63%), 4 slang words which are formed through Blending process (8.51%), and the last is 1 slang word which is formed through Clipping Process (2.12%).

Finally it can be concluded that from the semantics point of view, the most of the slang do not only have the denotation meaning but also have connotation meaning, then from Morphology point of view most of the slang words are formed through Multiple process and most of them are combination of Acronyms + Borrowing process.

The members of Indo Dunia internet forum have their ranks to give a status for their accounts such as; newbie, private, corporal, and so on. Those ranks can be gotten from the total posts that already posted by the members, the more the amount of the posts they made, the higher their ranks. However, the writer founds that those ranks do not have any influence to the usage of T/V dimension among the members. The fact is most of the members who open the thread and need suggestions or things from other members use V to address the other members (10 from 15 threads = 66.67%), (4 from 15 threads = 26.67%) use T to address the other members without considering the rank of the members and (1 from 15 threads = 6.67%) does not use Address Terms. The reasons why the most members use V when open the threads are because they who open the thread need some suggestions or things, they also use V to show politeness because they only meet in the forum, not in the real world, so it will be safe to use V to someone who not yet known. Finally it can be concluded that the usage of T/V in Indo Dunia Internet Forum are randomly used, does not depends on the ranks and there are no specific rules about Address Terms among the members. They only delivered T/V based on the self consciousness. From the results, the writer also can conclude that solidarity is the most influence to the usage of T/V, since the members use the T/V by delivering random address terms.

5.2. Suggestion

The research on Slang and Address Terms in Internet Forum could improve the knowledge of the students especially in the development of Linguistics. It is expected that there are further researches about Slang and Address Terms in the future. The phenomenon of Slang and Address Terms in the mailing list members, game online members, and members of video up loader can be an interesting study to conduct. It is because the students may get new knowledge in both Slang and the Address Terms.