Dear Ekawati Marhaenny Dukul,
Here is the revision that you need to do according to the reviewers:

1. Improve the style, for instance as in the following.
"... since the 18th century not only for its function but for the social expression of its people to their environment. The different colors and symbols used in designing and making quilts give knowledge to what quilt creators want to express. By use of library research and semiotics for an analytical-descriptive discussion".
  2. When stating the opinion of an author for the first time, make sure to provide its source of reference.
  3. A long quotation must be written with one space between lines.
  4. Use a term more appropriately, for instance: "Roland Barthes' semiotics" à Roland Barthes' process of signification of RB' levels of signification.
  5. Rewrite the idea of the analysis undertaken in this study more clearly / correctly as found in the following:
& "In the end, the quilts' colors, patterns, historical backgrounds and cultural values of the U.S. quilts gives a better understanding of how and why the Indonesian quilts are produced in some similar ways with the U.S. version".
- & "Indonesia has followed some of the unique characteristics of the U.S. patterns and colors of quilt. Having batik as their icon, Indonesian quilters put together different batik designs, which are mostly brown in color for curtains and bed covers"

After you revised your article, please resubmit it via web site for further consideration.

Best Regards,

Dr. Ribut Basuki

Dear Dr. Liliek Soelistyo
Chief Editor of K@ta

Enclosed is the revised version of my article, which follows Dr. Ribut's suggestions.
I fail to find a way of uploading my revised version on K@ta's OJS. Thus, I hope you don't mind my emailing the revised version here.
Thank you for giving me the opportunity of publication with K@ta.

Yours,
Ekawati
