ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Praise and gratitude I extend to the presence of the Lord Jesus because only by His guidance, love, and attention can I complete the thesis well, even though in a simple form. I also thank my parents and sister for their support, prayers, and love for me. Thank you for constantly reminding me to finish this work.

I would also like to thank my major sponsor, Antonius Suratno, MA., Ph.D., and co-sponsor Dr. Heny Hartono, SS, M.Pd., who gave me plenty of their time from the beginning to the end of the thesis writing and guided me so that I could complete this work. Thank you for your assistance with corrections and valuable information.

Special thanks to Teresa Avila's Dormitory sisters and friends who are never tired of asking questions and reminding me to keep working on this thesis. I appreciate your support. I also want to thank my best friend, Joanhia Elisa Vas, who is never tired of helping me when I lose my spirit and writing ideas. Thank you very much.

Finally, I would like to thank myself for writing this thesis. Finally, I can prove that I can do it despite the challenges during the writing, research, and graduation process. Thank you for being strong, patient, and enthusiastic until the end.

ABSTRACT

. This study examines how turn-taking is organized and what social actions have been achieved in an interruption in Ngobam's video. This study describes the CA aspects that alternate between hosts and guest stars. This study uses a qualitative study's conversation analysis approach based on an ethnomethodological perspective. This study involved a conversation with another discussion topic that lasted approximately 2 hours. The conversations analyzed were limited to the kind of turn-taking, which consisted of adjacency pairs; Greeting, question-answer, suggestion, blame, and warning. There is also a discussion of social action achieved through interruptions that appear in the question-answer section. The results show that the question-answer type is more dominant. The results of the data analysis show that the host and guest star understand each other to carry out social actions in connection with casual conversations. The author also found that the social action achieved by the interruption is to provide complete information and provide answers to the discussion.

ABSTRAK

Analisis percakapan adalah studi tentang tindakan sosial dalam percakapan. Studi ini mengkaji bagaimana turn-taking diatur dan tindakan sosial apa yang telah dicapai dalam interupsi dalam video Ngobam. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mendeskripsikan aspek CA yang bergantian antara host dan bintang tamu. Penelitian ini menggunakan pendekatan analisis percakapan berdasarkan perspektif etnometodologi dalam penelitian kualitatif. Penelitian ini melibatkan percakapan dengan topik diskusi lain yang berlangsung kurang lebih 2 jam. Percakapan yang dianalisis terbatas pada jenis turn-taking, yang terdiri dari pasangan adjacencies; Salam, tanya jawab, saran, celaan, dan peringatan. Ada juga diskusi tentang aksi sosial yang dicapai melalui interupsi yang muncul di bagian tanya jawab. Hasil penelitian menunjukkan bahwa tipe tanya jawab lebih dominan. Hasil analisis data menunjukkan bahwa pembawa acara dan bintang tamu saling memahami untuk dapat melakukan tindakan sosial sehubungan dengan percakapan biasa. Penulis juga menemukan bahwa aksi sosial yang dicapai dengan interupsi adalah memberikan informasi yang lengkap dan memberikan jawaban atas diskusi.
