CHAPTER I. INTRODUCTION Background of The Study The writer is interested in examining the music video, House of the Rising Sun, because the visual and musical compositions of the video are unique and they seem to express a meaningful idea. The writer perceives that the uniqueness of the video resides in how its visual and musical compositions are arranged in symmetrical and repetitive patterns. The idea behind such an arrangement is indicative of the importance of the social order of the time. The Animals were founded in England in 1963. ¹ The Animals has five main members in it which is Alan Price, Chas Chandler, Hilton Valentine and John Steel. The group band is formed in 1962 and their first single was a version of Eric Von Schmidt’s folk-blues song “Baby Let Me Follow You Down” and as for the second is single is the traditional “House of the Rising Sun” which is the most famous one. In 1965 Alan Price was left from the group and the rest is stayed together for long enough to perform hit single “Don’t Bring Me Down” . In the House
