Dear Celt Editors,
I have checked the reviewer's comment in my manuscript. Most of them asked about "where I used the references" in the article. I have checked and confirmed that the references I used were found in the article. I have put the subject index as well at the very end of my paper. With this email I'm sending you the revised version and the result of plagiarism check using plagiarisma.net. The result of the plagiarism check shows that the article is 96% unique. Thank you.

Best,

Heny Hartono
