ABSTRACT (FONT 9)

Unemployment Insurance is a category of Social Insurance which supports the subsistence of those who have lost their income due to unemployment. This kind of supporting from society citizen not only has been identified in law of numerous countries, but also, has been reflected in many ILO conventions. In Iran with ratification of unemployment insurance law in 1366 as temporary one, afterward, the permanent ratification of that law in 1369, this social protection has been made in Iran legal system in the shape of social security services, in the way that has been cited in article 29 of constitution. According to this law, two organizations, (Social Security Organization and Labor and Social affairs Ministry) have been recognized as law administrator. Nevertheless this law has hopeful points and supporting existence, it has been accompanied with many problem and challenges due to legislature`s idealistic thought during ratification of law. (FONT 9, Italic)

Key words: Unemployment, Unemployment Insurance, Social Insurance, Social Security, Iran Unemployment Insurance Law.

Introduction (Bold, Font 9)

(FONT 9)Some problems with this Act can be categorized as follows: Applying vague and ambiguous expressions and words in context of the Act which makes it hard to executive and interpret, such as: the extent to which the Act covers unemployed peoples. The minimum period to pay unemployment insurance fee is six months which seems a short one, taking into account financial situation of relative sources. In the foresaid Act just employer has to pay the insurance fee which seems unfair to put total financial burden on employer's shoulders while Government makes no contribution. Also there are other problems which this work will focus on to illustrate and propose solutions. The present study is to focus on Iran legal system in demission of unemployment insurance, taking in to consideration problems within Unemployment Act of Iran and finally come up with suggestions and recommendations.
