REFERENCES

Abstracts International: Section B: The Sciences & Engineering, 55(12-B), 5285.
SmallWaters Corporation.
Aronoff, C. E. & J.H. Astrachan (1999). When can family members serve on the board? Nation's Business. 87(1). 56-57.
Augustine, N. & K. Adelman (1999). The bard addresses the board on CEO classification and interpersonal conflict management styles of selected Missouri school administrators. Dissertation Abstracts International: Section
A: Humanities & Social Sciences, 59(9-A). 2652.
corporate networks and Japanese management. Academy of Management Boatwright, K. J. (1999). Women and men’s ideal leadership style preferences within the workplace. Dissertation Abstracts International: Section B: The Sciences & Engineering, 59(10-B), 5606.
Borkowski, M. (1997). Keep the family business in the family. Canadian Plastics, 5, 52.
the attitudes and perceptions of organizational members. In S. E. Seashore, E.
E. Lawler, P. H. Mirvis & C. Cammann (Eds.), Assessing organizational change
(pp. 71-138). New York: Wiley.
Castanias, R. P., & C.E. Helfat (1992). Managerial and windfall rents in the market for corporate control. Journal of Economic Behavior and Chu, T. C. & T. MacMurray (1993). The road ahead for Asia’s leading Korman, M. (1999). Succession planning—do you hear an echo from your advisors?

